Opposition to compass lithium battery plant in populated San Juan Capistrano

With all the businesses and neighborhoods near the proposed site for the Compass lithium battery farm, this should not even be considered a viable location. Put it out in the desert away from people, businesses and especially schools and children.

Where we live. Off Las Ramblas in San Juan Capistrano, there is only one main route of escape should an emergency happen. That route comes close to this proposed location.

Thank you.

Dr. Lorrie Klein
