No Lithium Battery Storage in San Juan Capistrano

Hello,

I would like to ask that you not allow the lithium battery energy storage system to be built in North San Juan Capistrano/South Laguna Niguel. This facility would be a highly flammable and toxic and would put the residents, businesses, and land in danger.

There are far more suitable locations for such a facility, including San Onofre, which is land that has already been exposed to toxicity, so it would not be a loss or danger to have this facility in that location. With all of the recent toxic hazards that have affected citizens in Southern California, another potential environmental disaster is not wanted in our SoCal community.

Respectfully,

Melanie Pollak
