Lithium Storage

Please STOP the lithium storage in or near our homes. The fact that you cannot stop them from burning will be a total disaster if a fire were to break out. Hundreds of homes and people will be affected, not to mention the toxic gases and ash. This is the most ridiculous idea ever concocted. I live in Orange County California. The fall out from such an event, were it to happen would be a total devastation of our county, as well as San Diego County Riverside and San Bernardino counties. Who is their right mind would even suggest such a thing?? California is already a dumpster fire and this would end it for good. STOP THE MADNESS...
