Serious Concerns Regarding Proposed Plant Location Near Residential Area and Canyon

I am writing to express deep concern regarding the proposed location for the energy facility near our residential area and the canyon. This area is not only home to many families, but it is also surrounded by public trails and has a long history of wildfires. Placing a facility of this nature in such a high-risk and densely populated area presents a serious safety concern.

I recall a recent incident on my way to Las Vegas where an EV battery truck caught fire. The highway was closed for over a day due to the hazardous fumes. If a similar incident were to occur at the proposed plant site, the consequences for our community would be severe. Residents would be forced to evacuate for days, possibly longer, and the health risks from potential toxic exposure are deeply troubling.

We understand the importance of developing sustainable energy solutions. However, this location is simply too close to homes, schools, and recreation areas. The potential danger far outweighs the convenience of the site.

Many citizens in our community are strongly opposed to this location. We urge you to reconsider and explore alternative sites that do not place so many lives and properties at risk.

Thank you for your attention to this critical matter.

Sincerely,
Jennifer Pinnegar
