RE:Â Opposition to Proposed Compass Energy Storage Project (24-OPT-02)

The postponed site is absolutely ridiculous. This massive storage plant should be set in an industrial park, not in the middle of a populous community. Particularly when it's a high fire hazard zone.

I live at the top of the hill, just above where this BESS is proposed in Terrifyingly close proximity. This is an area where wildfires are a constant concern. There is abundant, dried out vegetation on our hill, and there are posted signs everywhere that it's high-fire danger. Is there any question why we would be terrified about a highly flammable facility of lithium batteries going down the hill a half mile away from us?

Come on. This would be irresponsible and ridiculous, and our community simply won't let it happen. Just say NO.
