BESS storage facility

This dangerous battery storage facility would endanger thousands of homes and lives since a toxic fire with hazardous chemicals would burn toward these homes up these hills in five to ten minutes. I personally witnessed a fire burn right up to the houses in minutes luckily a fire truck was parked next to us when legal fireworks caught the hills on fire! If a fire breaks out which is likely toxic metals like lithium, chromium mercury and lead will be flowing into the Oso creek watershed and into San Juan creek and pollution will occur at Doheny Beach and make the Valdez oil spill look like a picnic since the toxic metals will kill and pollute the Pacific Ocean and you cannot clean it up like oil. This facility will destroy all of South County! One of the last vestiges of suburban Orange County will be gone. If it is so safe build this piece of garbage in Cleveland National Forest
