NOTICE OF REMOTE-ACCESS WORKSHOP

Notice of IEPR Commissioner Workshop on California's Progress Toward the Load-Shift Goal

June 25, 2025

10:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

Remote Access Only

via Zoom™ <https://zoom.us/>,Meeting ID: 856 1029 5709 and Meeting passcode: 2025

The California Energy Commission (CEC) will host a remote-access workshop to solicit comments on California's progress in improving load flexibility resources and the strategies to achieve 7 gigawatt (GW) load shift by 2030. The workshop provides an opportunity for commissioners, electricity resource planners, CEC staff, and stakeholders to obtain further insight into load flexibility implementation. The information gained from this workshop will inform the Senate Bill 846 (Dodd, Chapter 239, Statutes of 2022) Load-Shift Goal requirement of the 2025 Integrated Energy Policy Report (2025 IEPR).

This workshop is part of the 2025 IEPR proceeding. Chair David Hochschild is the CEC's lead commissioner for the 2025 IEPR, with Vice Chair Siva Gunda as the associate commissioner. The CEC aims to begin promptly at the start time posted and the end time is an estimate based on the proposed agenda. The workshop may end sooner or later than the posted end time.

The public can participate consistent with the attendance instructions below.

Agenda

The workshop will include CEC staff presentations and presentations from load flexibility experts focused on programs within and outside California. The morning session will discuss the state's progress toward the Load-Shift Goal of 7 GW by 2030 announced in 2023 in response to Senate Bill 846. The afternoon session will include presentations from experts focusing on the cost-benefit of load flexibility implementations and innovative program examples from outside California.

A detailed meeting schedule will be posted before the workshop at 2025 IEPR Workshops, Notices, and Documents, <https://www.energy.ca.gov/data-reports/reports/integrated-energy-policy-report/2025-integrated-energy-policy-report/2025-iepr>.

Background

California Public Resources Code Section 25301 requires the CEC to prepare an IEPR every two years that includes assessments and forecasts of energy industry supply, production, transportation, delivery and distribution, demand, and prices. The CEC develops these assessments and forecasts of the state's electricity and pipeline gas markets, including statewide and regional electricity and gas demand, incorporating factors leading to future demand growth, such as changes in economic activity, population growth, urban development, industrial expansion and energy intensity, growth in different building types, and energy and environmental policies.

The Load-Shift Goal Analysis addresses a requirement in Senate Bill 846 for the CEC to develop a statewide goal for load shifting to reduce net peak electrical demand. The first Load-Shift Goal Report in 2023 outlined the approach used to develop a Load-Shift Goal in consultation with the California Public Utilities Commission and the California Independent System Operator and considered research conducted by Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory. The report also discussed the current landscape of demand response and load shifting in California and suggested policies to increase demand response and load shifting without increasing greenhouse gas emissions or increasing electric rates.
