No Battery Energy Storage Plant Project

Most of us in rural Northern California, long for a world that does not exist anymore. A world that doesn't want to move so quickly to the next best thing. A world that does not wish to risk our land and our wildlife for the sake of "progress". And that is all that these lithium batteries are. They are progress. Progress with no end in sight. Most of us rural Californians wish to enjoy our land and the peace that it brings. And we wish to preserve the views, the peace, and the wildlife, not sell it to the highest bidder for the sake of a battery product that in some way or another will "supposedly" make our lives easier. Whatever it is we don't want it. Keep California wild, like the Wild West. Allow us to continue our way of life, because it's our lives and our ways to live it. Not those who just want to make a buck.
