Please keep my neighborhood safe

I am writing to oppose the Corby Project lithium-ion battery facility planned near my home and neighborhood. While I support clean energy, I am deeply concerned about the safety risks of placing a high-capacity battery site so close to residential areas, parks and school.

Lithium-ion facilities have experienced fires and chemical releases, and a similar incident here could endanger families, homes, and schools nearby. This project belongs in a properly zoned industrial area, not next to where people live.

I respectfully urge the Commission to deny or relocate the Corby Project and require a full safety and environmental review before moving forward. Clean energy should never compromise community safety.
