Prioritize Community Safety Over Industrial Risk

“I strongly support keeping lithium-ion battery plants away from unsafe locations in our community. These facilities pose serious risks – including fires, toxic smoke, and environmental hazards – that could endanger our families, especially our children. Our neighborhoods and schools should never be placed at risk because of poor planning. We’re not against development, but we demand responsible decisions, full transparency, and safety measures that put our community – and our kids – first.”
