Docket: 23-SB-100

March 20, 2026

To: The California Energy Commission, California Public Utilities Commission, and California Air Resources Board (the Joint Agencies)

The Union of Concerned Scientists is submitting this letter on behalf of 1,460 of our members and supporters in California who signed on to this letter.

As California scientists and science advocates, we urge the Joint Agencies to meaningfully engage with stakeholders and the public in the development of the SB100 report. Specifically, we request the release of a draft report and a comment period for stakeholders before the report is finalized.

While the opportunity to comment on modeling results is important, commenting on the draft report serves a fundamentally different purpose. Providing a comment period on the draft report allows stakeholders to help shape the narratives, conclusions, and recommendations that subsequently inform legislative and regulatory decisions, as well as public discourse around California's clean energy transition. It is critically important that stakeholders have the opportunity to review a draft report before it is finalized.

Public access and participation in state decisionmaking processes is foundational to ensure that California's clean energy transition is timely, affordable, and equitable. The SB 100 report should adhere to these best practices and include a stakeholder comment period for a draft report.

To achieve our state goal of 100 percent clean electricity by 2045, California needs to plan the transition while sharing information in ways that are publicly accessible, evidence-based, and equitable, and reflects the best interests of our residents.

Thank you for your attention to this issue.

Sincerely,
