Restructured 2025 Energy Code

g.r.e.g. Consulting, Inc. is appreciative of the effort to restructure the 2025 energy code.

It is difficult and time consuming to research and look-up code as the current structure has you jumping from section to section. When you think you have found your answer, there is a lot of back tracking to see how you got to it, so when sending a path to a client or team member to reference how you got to the answer, it is difficult for them to follow.

The new 2025 restructure is much easier to navigate, it aligns with building code and other codes in it's order, making it easier to refer engineers and architects to the right place. I would like to see this new reorganization adopted and all future codes under this framework.

Thank you,
Carol Roberts
