Highly Endorse the Proposed Restructured 2025 Energy Code

Greetings - I have been a Title 24 Certified Energy Analyst for over 20 years. The proposed restructuring of the Standards and supporting documentation has been needed for a very long time. The current long-standing structure of the Standards is very confusing and frustrates even the most seasoned professionals in the energy efficiency field. Collectively it has accounted for many hours of time wasted having to cross-reference chapter numbers with sections. Also it is close to impossible to provide it as a reference to those unschooled in the energy efficiency profession. Overall, as it stands now the Standards are organized in a very confusing way. Please move forward with this proposed restructuring. It is essential for those who work with the Standards on a daily basis to effectively and efficiently take what's on paper and put it into practice. Thank you.
