Inyokern

Before retiring, we lived in Inyokern for 20+ years. We know how precious the water resources are. We were part of a law suit with company over the same thing. Did Sacramento not learn anything from the Owen's Valley fiasco? The communities of Inyokern, Ridgecrest, and China Lake are doing their part to conserve what little water there is left in the aquifer, only to have the state scoop in and negate that process. Leave the Indian Wells Valley out of your plan.
