Commissioners re: Docket 24-OIR-03,

This would appear to be yet another government overreach. I do not believe the information that will be shared about individual families etc is any more important as to just recording total sales of equipment in the state from the manufacturers. This would provide the state with the same information without digging into or sharing individuals information. As a lifetime CA resident and contractor I strongly disagree with more government control and monitoring of the citizens that have voted them into these positions. This is not what we asked for when we voted for them. Dan Lewis
