Families and children rely on this land to make a living and support themselves in not only this country but more specifically this state where the wage gap is increasing and it is becoming more difficult to satisfy the cost of living. This land belonged to Mexicans before it was colonized. Many of the inhabitants, whether English speaking or not, aren't properly informed of the implications of this project. Are we just going to keep destroying the life of the land we use until it is dead and hazardous? We do not need any more remediation sites.
