Community Concern of quality of life and local farms

How is it not required that harmful facilities are safely away from our communities and farmers? We are having our insurance rates skyrocket due to fire risk, and it makes sense to build unsafe facilities near our communities? As well as our farms where our food comes from?

Many people were required to remove wood burning stoves because of said air pollution, and factories can be built near them and catch on fire regularly and that's different somehow?

My health was highly effected from the Moss Landing fires and I live miles away. The wind carries the toxins to many other nearby communities harming them as well. No alarm system went off warning people to stay inside downwind. Proper storage and cleanup have not been seen in other like facilities and this one will be different?

And then our local resources and tax dollars are used when catastrophes happen at the facilities. Until further laws and restrictions have been implemented the building needs to STOP NOW!
