No more plants here.

I live at the corner of Harbor and Channel Islands Blvd. I drive by the existing Mandalay plants several times a week, and for years I have wondered "why here?".

The existing plants have blighted a beautiful coastal area and now another one? We have a large industrial area away from all residential parcels. Why not put a plant in that area? When people come up here to visit they always ask me what is that "UGLY" plant doing on your beautiful coastline? Good question.

Please, not another eye sore.
