no new power plant

I am dismayed to hear about the plan for the construction of the Puente Power Plant. We are making huge strides toward converting to renewable power sources, and should be encouraging further growth in this area rather than falling backwards toward unsustainable fuel sources.

Whatever your personal beliefs about the cause of the global warming we are experiencing, there can be no denying that using renewable power sources will not continue to push us toward exacerbating the problem the way that burning fossil fuels will.

Please do not make this disasterous choice.
