No to Puente Power plant

Although I don't live in Oxnard. I still however disagree with the placement of the puente power plant. It's unfair how people of color (specifically latino/latinx) people are subjected to live this way. Most privilege, rich white big corporaions do not take it into consideration how our children, grandchildren, the youth will live with an environment that is being destroyed, each and every day. Of course those that matter, those that have power, have money, aka big corporations don't care because they're making money. Most changes in the world are driven by money, only when people are able to benefit from it. It's not fair that things will only truly change with the exchange of money fore power.
