No to Puente Power plant

I hope that you are aware that Governor Jerry Brown has committed to being a global leader in combatting climate change. And I don't know if you know, but fossil fuels and greenhouse gases are the main contributors to climate change. The potential approval of this power plant of all, let alone in Oxnard, will be counterintuitive to the aims of the governor and millions of California citizens. If more people were aware of this proposal, there would be more public outrage. If there was to be another power plant in Oxnard, people will look at Oxnard as a textbook example of the harmful environmental and health consequences for people that live in communities with power plants, gas pipelines, ect. and once race as a factor is recognized by the media and the public, CEC and all the other committees who approves this plant will be in major trouble. Do not approve this plant; listen to the people who already suffer as a result of environmental racism. California is on the fast track to abandoning fossil fuels and investing in renewable energy. Get with the program or drop out.
