Pass a Resolution OPPOSING a NEW power plant in Redondo Beach, CA

Betsy Ryan Hermosa Beach, CA

Air pollution like oil spills know no city boundaries.

AES has restarted their application to build new power plant in Redondo Beach

The proposed new power plant will be located at our border with Redondo Beach on Herondo Drive.

According to the AES application to the California Energy Commission for a new power plant in Redondo Beach, Air Pollution is going to dramatically increase in Hermosa Beach if approved

We are asking the Hermosa Beach City Council to support the Redondo Beach City Council and join them in passing a resolution opposing a power plant in Redondo Beach

It's on Herondo Drive right across the street from Hermosa Beach

Hermosa Beach is only 1.3 miles long

You, me and our children will be assuming all of the health risks associated with compromised air quality, increased pollution and other environmental impacts

Hermosa will also lose tourist dollars and see lower property values associated with living next to a Power Plant.

We will receive zero benefits

We are asking the Hermosa Beach City Council to support the Redondo Beach City Council and join them in passing a resolution opposing a new power plant in Redondo Beach

We need to act now!

Don't hesitate

Name	City	State	Zip	Country	Signed On	Comment
Doug Hall	Surprise	AZ	85388	United States	5/9/2015	I htrw up on HB and don't like what it is becoming.
Dave Andrews	Hermosa Beach	CA	90254	United States	5/11/2015	It does not fit with the culture of the South Bay cities
Jose Bacallao	santa monica	CA	90401	United States	5/12/2015	Goodbye power plant! Let's restore the land!
Rick Learned	Hermosa Beach	CA	90254	United States	5/12/2015	There is still a small chance they could get a renewal.
James Schoen	Hermosa Beach	CA	90254	United States	5/20/2015	I am a concerned homeowner and would like the beautiful beachfront area to be kept environmentally friendly.
Robert Fortunat	Hermosa Beach	CA	90254	United States	5/20/2015	The money for this plant should be used for renewable energy and backup energy storage. The sun shines here almost every day. Let's harness it while at the same time reducing particulates in our air that cause heart disease, lung disease and cancer.
Chris Prenter	Hermosa Beach	CA	90254	United States	5/20/2015	I'm signing because we do not need a new power plant.
Kat Thek	Brooklyn	NY	11226	United States	5/20/2015	This is not a fit for the community -- not only is Rendondo too densely populated, but the loss in tourist revenue would be felt quickly.
Geoff Linke			3004	Australia	5/21/2015	Today there are so many choices we can make to run cities with water, power, transport and other utilities and at the same time keep and enhance those same cities as beautiful, healthy, clean and natural places to work, live, play and enjoy. It just takes bold, strong leadership. This power plant should be stopped. Find the courage, step up to the leadership challenge to make a much better choice and to avoid unnecessary risks to human health and the environment..
