

Bill Pfanner - Power Plant chemicals

---

From:
To:
Date: 10/9/2007 5:48 PM
Subject: Power Plant chemicals

---

Hello, My name is Travis K. Young and I am a concerned student of Chabot Community College. I have read the articles provided pertaining to the power plant, and am very curious as to why this information provided lacks any information of the chemical Acrolein that is to be produced from this plant. I must be honest and say that in pretense of reading the description of the usage of the plant, I was in dismay because of my concern for my health as well as others. I am aware of this plant assisting to meet electric generation loads during high demand, but am still in contempt for the lack of knowledge of this harmful chemical Acrolein that the description of the project failed to provide. In fact, I had to look up this chemical myself to obtain a better understanding, and it is truly uneasy to lack a full comprehensive understanding, and left me distraught, for I could not believe that our Governor would put us in potential danger. So I sought to know more in depth about this project by viewing the article describing this project as provided on this web-page that gave me your e-mail. I was even more disappointed to notice the absence of the chemical production of Acrolein, and I am aware of its danger and am aware of its usefulness, but I do not believe every one is aware of what exactly is this chemical that the article in which was meant to describe this Power Plant failed to give any information of this matter. I feel that there should have been more stated so the public is able to know all the contents in which this potential life changing project consist of, and am certain that many others feel as I do. I am not a person of rebellious attitude towards industrial advancement, but simply an appreciative individual of his community, and I do hope that you may respond to my inquiry and will be very thankful for any further input of this matter.

Sincerely
Travis K. Young

---

See what's new at AOL.com and Make AOL Your Homepage.

