Petition to the Staff of the California Energy Commission and All Agencies

Please categorically reject any proposals by any entity to construct a power plant alongside Mission Trails Regional Park. The Quail Brush Power Plant will negatively impact anyone who lives, works, or attends school nearby, and anyone who frequents the park. The tranquility of our open-space park, a local and national treasure, with historical, geographic, and wildlife preservation value, will be adversely affected.

Additionally, local communities cannot afford the property value decreases, and even stringent air quality standards will not prevent a diminished air quality from the plant's emissions. Our health and the lives of our children and elderly depend on your decision. To construct a power plant anywhere near Mission Trails, which has long been designated Open Space, and not an industrial area, is neither rational nor necessary. Please halt the present siting of the Quail Brush Generation Project.
