RE: Proposed Quail Brush Power Plant

DATE	JUN 14 2012

On Friday, May 18, 2018, the San Diego River Coalition voted 11-1 to oppose the proposed Quail Brush Power Plant.

The following motion was adopted:

Locating an industrial power plant at the proposed location within the Mission Trails Design District of East Elliot would contradict and be incompatible with the mission, vision and principles of the San Diego River Coalition. Therefore, we urge you to oppose changes to “laws, ordinances, standards and regulations” (LORS) needed to site the “Quail Brush Power Plant” within the Mission Trails Design District of East Elliot and upon a parcel one-half-mile from the San Diego River.

For the record, several groups in attendance did not vote on this matter.

Thank you very much for your consideration of our position on this important issue. As an association of groups with a mission of preserving and enhancing the San Diego River, its watershed, and its natural, cultural and recreational resources, the Coalition felt this proposal was of such significance that we should share with you our opposition to this project.
