Dear Mr Solorio,

We are opposed to the location you have picked for the Quail Brush Power plant.

My name is Erika Scarbrough and we live on Belmore Ct in zip 92020. Our children's high school will be West Hills, off of Mast.

When looking for a home to live in we considered many things. One of these things was the open space in the area and the amount of places to hike and walk and the air quality of the area. Mission Trails park is a treasure. I have friends who drive from all over San Diego to hike in the park. I've taken our Girl Scout troop to this park for several nature events too. Our middle child plans on running cross country in high school and your power plant will change the air quality of her running space.

A power plant will increase traffic dramatically. Currently Mast can get very backed up and it cannot handle any more traffic. This area already has lots of traffic for the businesses in the area, the freeway commuters, and students for the local high school and elementary schools in the area.

Putting a power plant in an area close to over a thousand children and so many more nature enthusiasts is wrong. You will be changing the area and threatening the rare animals that live here. There aren't too many beautiful open spaces like this in the area and it not right to destroy this one.

Thank you.

Erika Scarbrough
