California Energy Commission

DOCKETED

To the CPUC To Whom It May Concern: In the news about power generation, German gas fired power generation is down 27% from last year due to high gas prices. ... from Penn Energy and from Power Engineering International... E.ON is considering closing one of its most modern gas power plants due to falling demand for energy. Gas plants have become largely uneconomical to operate due to the speedy growth of renewable energy sources. Please look out for our future. Don't let them build Quail-Brush just to squeeze more money out of the consumer.. Santee doesn't want it. San Diego doesn't want it. Numerous environmental clubs and organizations don't want it. The League of Women Voter's doesn't want it. Not only is it a huge mistake for the environment, but a huge mistake economically Think about the future. How do you want to be remembered? As the enlightened people who helped save California in her darkest hour or as the dasterdly organization that allowed greedy out of state builders to ruin views of one of the largest regional parks in the country. Thank you for your time. Sincerely, Margie Logue, Heatherdale St. Santee Ca. 92071 Sent on Feb.6, 2013
