The largest open space urban park west of the Mississippi should not be within the realm of possibility for a FOSSIL FUEL POWER PLANT!

Seriously? The fact that the energy barons are once again poised to work the system to their advantage at the well being of the citizen they serve is absolutely disgusting. SDG&E, Cogentrix, and Sempra Energy have sufficient resources build a clean energy plant or to move a polluting fossil fuel plant to an area away from the San Diego river and the thousands of people that use the park daily. If you've never seen a raptor hunting off the ridge at sunset on the site of this proposed fossil fuel burning plant then you should have not right to see them or their prey destroyed for this unnecessary power plant.
