Health and Nuisance cost

I live across the street from the current power plants. I enter my property from Newland Street. I do not want to be blocked from going or from from work or school. When Newland street was repaved we were blocked from entering our house at times and forced to drive around town waiting in traffic to gain access; costing me several hours a week. It also made it difficult to take our kids to school in the morning or pick them up after school. Will Newland Street or Edison Ave/ Hamilton Ave. be blocked at any time?

During the demolition; will any hazardous material or particulates get exposed to the air, with an almost constant breeze is there a potential of those dangers going air born?

The constant noise over the next ten years of heavy construction will make living next to the power plant from uncomfortable to unbearable, is my only choice to move?

Will the owners of the power plant pay any relocation cost?

Thank you
