Clean Electric

It's time to move away from natural gas and towards clean electricity from a good renewable source. Wind, and other forms. More research into current harnessing and massive solar farms. Time is running out for our planet. If we even have to put clean electricity in a lottery or something that would make it fair to everyone and charge big users a much higher rate. In any case we must move quickly to end our dependence on fossil fuels. Before this climate change is a runaway juggernaut.
