This is to advise you that the BAAQMD has completed the engineering evaluation report for the Black Start Capability Project proposed for the following facility:

The addition of "black start" capability will require the installation of a battery system to allow the Marsh Landing Generating Station to start up two turbines and begin operating without external assistance from the electrical grid.

NAPA COUNTY

The Air District published the engineering evaluation in draft form for this project in January of 2019 and received no comments from members of the public, a letter from California State Lands Commission, and an email from Marsh Landing Generating Station during the 30-day notice period. The letter and email are included in the attached engineering evaluation report.
