Oppose REACH

As a homeowner, I oppose the proposed REACH code because it takes away choice and diversity. I want to keep my gas stove and furnace, and if I move, I want to be able to find a home that has those features. . approvals for a number of cities on December 11. This action will undermine uniform building codes and appliance standards statewide and take energy choice from millions of Californians.

As a side note, I recently leased a plug-in hybrid with the plan that in a few years I would move to all EV. With the recent fires and power shut-downs by the utility companies, I am now reluctant to go all EV. Gasoline is another energy source and if all vehicles were electric, there could be a total lack of transportation.

We need to have more efficient appliances, vehicles, etc. but we should also have choices. Don't legislate that away.
