Support Reach Coded

Hello - I would like to support the recent efforts for more cities to adopt stronger environmental regulations associated with REACH codes. The public needs good government stewardship to make the necessary environmental progress to counter the impact of fossil fuels. Just like the CEC's refrigerator standards, this is the next wave that California should lead. I am a building design engineer and I am working on transitioning my home to all electric, and it would be much easier if more contractors and suppliers were incentivized to offer the options I need. Thank you for all your good leadership for a better future.
