It is shameful to see what damage you propose to do to our beautiful waterfront

There is poor or no planning that listen to the public's needs for open space, ambiance, The entrance country is join small, quiet shaded areas, sidewalk cafes where residents can gather and enjoy their community Why are you wanting to build a monstrous mall. we have enough malls in shopping areas not ones that will be a blight on ur waterfront your schematic designs do not show the disappearance of open spaces. all you have is huge huge huge bulky and ugly parking structures to house al traffic from all over LA County for rich people to get richer to hell with the people who live in and love Redondo Beach Yes revitalize the Harbor do it with taste and a little elegance or even some down home style outdoor cafes and walking paths and culture museum telling our young people about the history of their city and the Pier
