RE: Cal Energy Name Change

To Whom it May Concern:

California Living and Energy sees no problem with the CHEERS name change to California Energy Registry. The name change makes sense and has become much easier for the general public to understand. California Energy Registry has obviously gone through all the proper channels in acquiring the new name and should not be forced to change.

The name change has not been an issue for CLE. Our builders and homeowner have not expressed a concern with the name change and we see no reason why California Energy Registry should be forced into a name change.

Sincerely,

Jeff Ruth
