Director Bohan,

Why were you congratulatory and in support of the CalEnergy name until CalCerts took issue? If CalCerts has a legitimate complaint with CalEnergy, they should take it up with the court system. If you are going to side with CalCerts on this, then you should also have issue with all the other companies who have similar names that start with "California Energy." Will you be using your position to favor one registry over another's frivolous complaint?

By you acknowledging and displaying a congratulatory attitude about the name change from CHEERS to CalEnergy, it now seems a bit severe and duplicitous to threaten to shut down the whole registry, with only a few days' notice. Really? Just for a name change?

Seems like the CEC has had an ongoing contentious relationship with the CHEERS/CalEnergy registry. This appears to just be the latest attempt to find some technicality to shut them down, with no thought to the needless disruption to hundreds of energy consultants and HERS raters.
