100 percent by 2030

Our lives, our health, our future, our happiness depend on the full and rapid transition to 100 percent clean energy. Enough of us want this. It is doable. The consequences of not doing it--of not doing it in time--are unthinkable. Please hear that as a Californian born and bred, my passionate desire is to live in a state that is part of the solution to the world's most menacing threat. I am doing what I can as an individual citizen--the car that I (rarely) drive is electric. All of the food that I eat is plant based. The home that I am rebuilding after the wildfire will be energy efficient and solar powered. I have been to the City Council meetings, to the LAUSD board meetings, to the LADWP board meetings, all to call for a clean energy transition. Please join me and do your part, too. And tell us everyday Californians what more we can do to speed progress. Let's reach 100 percent clean energy by 2030. Thank you.
