A detailed meeting schedule will be posted prior to the workshop at <https://www.energy.ca.gov/data-reports/reports/integrated-energy-policy-report/2021-integrated-energy-policy-report/2021-iepr>.

Background

The 2019 IEPR (<https://www.energy.ca.gov/data-reports/reports/integrated-energy-policy-report/2019-integrated-energy-policy-report>) identified the building sector as a significant contributor to California's greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions. In addition, it discussed that a combination of clean energy supplies, deep energy efficiency improvements in buildings and appliances, and electric demand flexibility would be required to reduce GHG emissions from California buildings. The 2019 IEPR also discussed several barriers and solutions to achieving significant GHG emission reductions from buildings.

Building on the 2019 IEPR, in May 2021, the CEC released its staff draft California Building Decarbonization Assessment report (<https://efiling.energy.ca.gov/Lists/DocketLog.aspx?docketnumber=19-DECARB-01>). As directed by Assembly Bill 3232 (Friedman, Chapter 373, Statutes of 2018), this initial report analyzes scenarios to reduce GHG emissions in residential and commercial buildings by at least 40 percent by 2030, identifies strategies to reduce emission reductions, and discusses the related impacts, costs, and barriers.

This workshop will include a discussion of the nation's and California's current and potential future building decarbonization efforts and provide an overview of the draft California Building Decarbonization Assessment.
