Docket No. 13-ATTCP-01

Dear Brianna Kadar:

The California Energy Commission (CEC) has received National Lighting Contractors Association of America's (NLCAA or applicant) application for confidential designation, dated July 5, 2022, covering:

NLCAA 2022 ATT Certification Course Student Handbook - 325 pages –
July 5, 2022.

Applicant asserts that the document in its entirety consists of proprietary materials considered a trade secret. Further, the application states that release of portions of the materials are limited to confidential recipients. The materials appear to be training materials in the form of the Student Handbook, as represented. The application references Government Code sections 6254(k) and 6276.44, and Evidence Code section 1060. The application requests the confidential designation continue for the duration of NLCAA's training program, which does not currently have an end date.

A properly filed Application for Confidentiality shall be granted under California Code of Regulations, title 20, section 2505(a)(3)(A), "if the applicant makes a reasonable claim that the Public Records Act or other provision of law authorizes the California Energy Commission to keep the record confidential." The California Public Records Act allows for the non-disclosure of trade secrets. (Gov. Code, § 6254(k); Evid. Code, § 1060.) Civil Code section 3426.1(d) defines "trade secret" as:

[I]nformation, including a formula, pattern, compilation, program, device, method, technique, or process, that: 1) Derives independent economic value, actual or potential, from not being generally known to the public or to other persons who can obtain economic value from its disclosure or use; and 2) Is the subject of efforts that are reasonable under the circumstances to maintain its secrecy.

(Civ. Code, § 3426.1(d); See also Gov. Code, §§ 6254(k), 6276, 6276.44; Evid. Code, § 1061(a); Uribe v. Howie (1971) 19 Cal.App.3d 194, 207.)

California Code of Regulations, title 20, section 2505(a)(1)(D), further states that if an applicant for confidential designation believes that the record should not be disclosed because it contains trade secrets, or its disclosure would otherwise cause loss of a competitive advantage, an application shall state: 1) the specific nature of the advantage; 2) how the advantage would be lost; 3) the value of the information to an applicant; and 4) the ease or difficulty with which the information could be legitimately acquired or duplicated by others.

The application addresses each of these four requirements by stating:

The specific nature of the advantage – The submission details the 2022 course curriculum developed by the applicant. There would be a large cost associated with the loss of trade secrets and competitive advantage.

How the advantage would be lost – The advantage would be lost if competitors obtained their proprietary training materials, copied them, and taught the same course at a lower price.

The value of the information to the applicant – No dollar value, but time and money were spent developing the materials.

The ease or difficulty with which the information could be legitimately acquired or duplicated by others - It is not released in its entirety except to authorized recipients.

Applicant has made a reasonable claim that the document contains trade secrets, as defined, and that the Public Records Act authorizes the CEC to keep the record confidential pursuant to California Code of Regulations, title 20, section 2505(a)(3)(A).

Executive Director's Determination

For the reasons stated, the applicant's confidentiality application is granted. The information subject to this confidentiality designation will be kept confidential until the applicant's Acceptance Test Technician Certification Program ends. Since this date is currently unknown, the confidential designation does not have a termination date.

A decision on a petition to inspect or copy confidential records is issued by the CEC's chief counsel.
