diablo canyon nuclear power plant re-open

Unless you live here, you may not understand our concerns in my comments. Are you playing roulette with us? Diablo is old and not reliable. Its maintenance has been deferred because it was closing. The last replacement for aging parts resulted in a seven-month outage.

Diablo is so old that its once-through cooling, like we had at the Morro Bay power plant, is no longer legal. How will that be addressed? This proposal extending operation severs the closure agreement of 2016!

And the age old question: What will you do with the extra high level radioactive waste? Where's the storage?

Diablo is seismically vulnerabl
