Please listen to experts and keep Diablo Canyon open

The strongest case for the continued operation of the Diablo Canyon Nuclear Power Plant that I have encountered is this open letter[1] to Governor Newsom, signed by 79 leading scientists, academics and domain experts. That letter presents an argument stronger than any I could cobble together on my own, so I'm simply going to cite and endorse the letter.

The only thing I have to add to the contents of that letter is this: If there exists an comparably-sized collection of comparably-qualified experts that have presented a comparably-empirical argument in support of closing of the plant, I am not aware of it.
