No more nuclear power

I do not believe California should continue to rely on nuclear power to meet its climate goals. The Diablo Canyon plant in particular is a boondoggle, a waste of billions taxpayer dollars. California can and should accelerate true renewables (wind, solar, wave, geothermal, battery storage, energy efficiency), which are constantly getting cheaper and more efficient. Indeed it should be a model for the nation on how to effectively invest in climate friendly energy and not follow the IRA's lead on wasteful nuclear, carbon capture, and other old or unproven technologies.
