Application for Confidential Designation for Data in Power Source
Disclosure Program Annual Report
Docket No. 23-PSDP-01

Dear Seth D. Hilton and Christa Lim:

The California Energy Commission (CEC) has received Shell Energy North America (US), L.P.'s (applicant) application for confidential designation (TN 250573), dated June 9, 2023, covering the following data in the Power Source Disclosure Annual Report:

- PSD Schedule 1 – Procurements and Retail Sales
Lines 7-14, Column N
Lines 18-46, 49-98, 101-136, and 139-140, Columns H-N (MWh procured, GHG emissions data)
- PSD Schedule 2 – Retired Unbundled Renewable Energy Credits (REC)
Lines 9, 12-70 Column E (Total Retired Unbundled RECs)
- PSD Schedule 3 – Power Content Label Data
Lines 13-25, Column B (Adjusted Net Procured MWh)
Line 27, Column C (Total Retail Sales)
- Asset Controlling Supplier (ACS) Procurement Calculator – Lines 8-18, 23-33, Column E

An application for confidential designation shall be granted under the California Code of Regulations, title 20, section 2505(a)(3)(A), "if the applicant makes a reasonable claim that the [California] Public Records Act or other provision of law authorizes the [California Energy] Commission to keep the record confidential.” The executive director’s determination made in response to an application for confidential designation is subject to a reasonableness standard. It is the applicant’s burden to make a reasonable claim for confidentiality based on the California Public Records Act and other applicable laws.

The applicant asserts the data contains trade secret and proprietary information which is not made public by the applicant and that the data is considered confidential by the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC). The applicant states the data can be aggregated with other similar data and made public.

The California Public Records Act allows for the non-disclosure of trade secrets including, among others, those records exempt from disclosure under the Uniform Trade Secrets Act. (Gov. Code, §§ 7927.705(k), 7930.005, 7930.205; Civ. Code, § 3426.1; Evid. Code, § 1060.)

Civil Code section 3426.1(d) defines “trade secret” as:

[I]nformation, including a formula, pattern, compilation, program, device, method, technique, or process, that (1) Derives independent economic value, actual or potential, from not being generally known to the public or to other persons who can obtain economic value from its disclosure or use; and (2) Is the subject of efforts that are reasonable under the circumstances to maintain its secrecy.

(Civ. Code, § 3426.1(d); see also Gov. Code, §§ 7927.705, 7930.005, 7930.205; Evid. Code, § 1061(a); Uribe v. Howie (1971) 19 Cal.App.3d 194, 207.)

California Code of Regulations, title 20, section 2505(a)(1)(D), states that if an applicant for confidential designation believes that the record should not be disclosed because it contains trade secrets, the application shall state: (1) the specific nature of the advantage, (2) how the advantage would be lost, (3) the value of the information to the applicant, and (4) the ease or difficulty with which the information could be legitimately acquired or duplicated by others.

Discussion

The application addresses the four elements in California Code of Regulations, title 20, section 2505(a)(1)(D) by stating:

1. The specific nature of the advantage – The information can be used to determine the applicant’s market position directly or indirectly to the detriment of the applicant and its customers.
2. How the advantage would be lost – Disclosure of the information could reveal the applicant’s “net short” position, which could place the applicant at a competitive disadvantage in the wholesale and retail electricity markets, thereby potentially increasing the applicant’s power procurement costs and costs paid by its customers.

3. The value of the information to the applicant – Disclosure of this information could lead to higher costs to the applicant and its customers.
4. The ease or difficulty with which the information could be legitimately acquired or duplicated by others – The information is kept confidential by the applicant and only shared with applicant's employees, attorneys, and regulatory agencies.

The applicant has made a reasonable claim that the energy data is exempt as trade secrets. The application requests the data be confidential until December 31, 2023, consistent with the one-year period this type of data is considered confidential by the CPUC. (See Order Instituting Rulemaking, R.05-06-040, D.06-06-066 Appendix 2 and D.08-04-023 Appendix B, ESP Confidentiality Matrix Section V Market Purchases of Energy and Capacity.)

Executive Director's Determination

For the reasons stated, the data is granted confidentiality until December 31, 2023. The data may be released before December 31, 2023, if applicant-specific information is aggregated with information from all other statewide energy service providers. This determination supersedes the confidentiality determination granted in the previous response letter dated June 28, 2023, TN 250817.

Note that load serving entities provide quarterly annual retail sales under California Code of Regulations, title 20, section 1306. As set forth in California Code of Regulations, title 20, section 2507(f)(1)(A)(1), the quarterly data can be publicly disclosed for an individual load serving entity if aggregated at the statewide level by year. Therefore, data submitted consistent with this aggregation will not be confidential.

Be advised that under California Code of Regulations, title 20, section 2506, one may petition to inspect or copy records that the CEC has designated as confidential. A decision on a petition to inspect or copy confidential records is issued by the CEC's chief counsel. Under California Code of Regulations, title 20, section 2507, the executive director may disclose records, or release records previously designated as confidential, in certain circumstances. The procedures for acting on a petition and criteria for disclosing or releasing records previously designated as confidential are set forth in the California Code of Regulations, title 20, sections 2506-2508.
