Stop Compass Energy from building a storage unit

All the residents in our community do not want Compass Energy building a battery storage facility in our backyard. As a parent I don't want my child exposed to the dangerous chemicals and fumes that accumulate with such a facility. If it were to proceed, you can expect the residents to move out of the area. This could be the first step towards turning South Orange County from vibrant family-friendly neighborhoods into a desolate commercial area (think Vernon CA). This area is one of the last areas in So Cal that still has natural outdoor beauty and family friendly. Don't be the domino that destroys what makes South Orange County special.
