State mandate for solar

State mandate for solar photovoltaic system to be installed for all new homes built in 2022 which make the home buyers become victims, many solar company filed bankruptcy and the builder and the developer made the home buyers to pay the solar with the solar company directly and the developer/builder would not warrant the solar photovoltaic system. We are encountered buying a new home in Walnut, the community is "The Terrace in Walnut", the developer, Sunjoint, and the builder, CBC homes are under same owners who chosen the Sunpower solar company for the new homeowners but they made the solar system addendum to state they do not warrant the solar system.

Since the solar system became a state mandate, shall the state requires all developer/builder must offer limited warranty as the other warranties offered to protect the home buyers.
