No BESS farm in Laguna Niguel and San Juan Capistrano

We here in South Orange County do not want a repeat of the disastrous BESS fire raging now in Northern Monterey County. The toxic gases being released and the immeasurable amount of carbon emission and the negative impacts on humans, animals, and the natural environment is a disgrace. One incident like this is so much worse than clean fossil fuel energy. What is even worse is the proposed BESS farm in Orange County is in a much more populated area and adjacent to I-5, the only freeway available for mass evacuations should such a fire occur here. Furthermore, a forced closure of the I-5 would have a devastating impact, stopping all traffic on this only main route between San Diego and Los Angeles.
