Extreme concern of San Juan proposed lithium battery plant

I'm reaching out with an extreme concern of this proposed lithium battery plant nestled in a high fire zone. We who live in this area already deal with fires every year. This is highly irresponsible placement and with the recent devastation of LA and the lithium power plant in Moss this week on fire with complete out of control flames, leaving an entire town to evacuate, how could this even be a lucid decision? You must reconsider this placement as it is a reckless time bomb that will destroy multiple surrounding towns. It makes me absolutely sick to see irresponsible decisions like this.
