Re: Fountain Wind Project, Docket 23-OPT-01
County of Shasta Invoice Reimbursement #2

Dear Messrs. Bohan, Payne, and Woltag and Ms. Mudge:

The County of Shasta (County) is hereby submitting the attached invoices totaling $110,968.30 for expenses it actually incurred related to its review and comment on the Fountain Wind Project application. The County submits for reimbursement in accordance with Assembly Bill (AB) 205 establishing the California Energy Commission's (Commission) opt-in certification process, Public Resources Code §§ 25519(f) and 25538, 20 CCR § 1878.1, Commission reimbursement precedent, Commission staff and counsel direction, and applicable state law mandates. Invoices are being filed in the docket per CEC Staff Counsel direction and submitted concurrently to Commission staff and the applicant, Fountain Wind LLC.¹

Note that the County has retained outside counsel and consultants with expertise in the Eligible Activity items above to assist the County with its review and comments. All invoices are subject to applicable attorney-client privilege and have been redacted accordingly. The

County has, however, segregated non-reimbursable activities, such as litigation advice or general meetings from the invoices and has not claimed reimbursement for these items. In an effort to ease Commission and applicant review, the County has marked reimbursable activity billing descriptions and line item entries with a stamp categorizing the Eligible Activity based on the coding system, without otherwise waiving privilege for the work product therein. The County has previously sought Commission direction on the process for filing reimbursement requests, as there is no written rules or process regarding reimbursement submittals, and has not received such direction to date.

To the extent that there is a dispute over a reimbursement invoice, the County anticipates and reserves the right to request Commission dispute resolution.

We are willing to meet with Commission staff and the applicant to further discuss and refine the reimbursement process.

Thank you for your review and consideration.

Sincerely,

Joseph F. Larmour
County Counsel

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are under 15 years of age has increased by 1.2 billion, from 1.1 billion in 1980 to 2.3 billion in 1999. The number of people aged 15 years and over has increased by 1.1 billion, from 2.5 billion in 1980 to 3.6 billion in 1999. The number of people aged 65 years and over has increased by 0.2 billion, from 0.2 billion in 1980 to 0.4 billion in 1999.

These changes in the world population have led to a significant increase in the number of people who are under 15 years of age, from 1.1 billion in 1980 to 2.3 billion in 1999. This increase has been driven by a combination of factors, including a decline in the death rate, a decline in the birth rate, and a decline in the rate of migration.

The decline in the death rate has been a major factor in the increase in the number of people under 15 years of age. This decline has been driven by a number of factors, including a decline in the rate of infant mortality, a decline in the rate of child mortality, and a decline in the rate of adult mortality.

The decline in the birth rate has also been a major factor in the increase in the number of people under 15 years of age. This decline has been driven by a number of factors, including a decline in the rate of fertility, a decline in the rate of abortion, and a decline in the rate of migration.

The decline in the rate of migration has also been a major factor in the increase in the number of people under 15 years of age. This decline has been driven by a number of factors, including a decline in the rate of immigration, a decline in the rate of emigration, and a decline in the rate of naturalization.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million (1990–1999) and is projected to increase by a further 1.5 million by 2010 (Office for National Statistics 2000). The number of people aged 65 and over in the UK is projected to increase from 10.5 million in 1999 to 12.5 million in 2010, with the number of people aged 75 and over increasing from 4.5 million to 5.5 million in the same period (Office for National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop strategies to meet the needs of the ageing population. The Department of Health (2000) has published a strategy for ageing, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the health and quality of life of older people. The strategy is based on three main principles: (1) to ensure that older people have access to the services they need; (2) to ensure that older people are able to live independently; and (3) to ensure that older people are able to participate in society.

There are a number of reasons why the world population is growing so rapidly. One of the main reasons is that the number of children born to each woman has increased. In 1980, the average woman in the world had 2.5 children. In 1999, the average woman in the world had 2.7 children.

Another reason why the world population is growing so rapidly is that the number of people who are surviving to old age has increased. In 1980, the average person in the world lived for 55 years. In 1999, the average person in the world lived for 65 years.
