No to the battery storage plant

I am writing to vehemently oppose the battery storage facility in San Juan Capistrano. We have enough data to show how dangerous this could be for the local environment, as well as thousands of residents. Just in the last year, a large number of fires at these lithium storage plants have shown the toxic chemicals being released into the air and we are yet to know the full effects it has on the surrounding areas. The location in San Juan Capistrano is in very close proximity to homes and the 5 freeway, the major route connecting northern and southern CA. Please make the right decision and do not put this in San Juan.
