No BESS between along the freeway, interstate 5 between homes

I can't be the only one that sees the concern, putting this here along a major commerce corridor route between homes, knowing which way the Santa Ana winds blow. This is asking for a disaster in the making. Please rethink your location. Deserted areas are much better choice. If this area ever had an issue and had combustion, this is a worst case scenario location. I'm sure many others feel the same way hopefully logic prevails and a new home/location is found suited for BESS.
